Hello PDC,

Please consider this my formal response.

It appears that there is only one alleged violation, but the complaint made numerous allegations that I have also chosen to address. Please advise if there is anything else I need to do at this time. And please acknowledge receipt of this email. Thank you!

Respectively,

John Svilarich

- Alleged violation of RCW 42.17A.320 for failing to provide proper sponsor Identification on campaign advertisement.

Mailer disclosure – This was the first mailer I have ever done for anything. I mistakenly assumed that it was like yard signs and other materials meaning if it was prominently clear who was behind it, that was disclosure. I had plenty of space to place it on the mailer but mistakenly did not. It's all on me. Guilty as charged.

Mailer expenses – My campaign funds paid for my one mailer. I used a voting history list from the State to parse it to 7490 mailers. I paid for printing to Minuteman Press ($1348.46), for the direct mail service from Kaufman Direct ($374.69) and the USPS postage ($2284). Please note that several local candidates used the same printer and possibly the same direct mail service through the printer. I have included copies of the checks and payments.

Social media promotion – My campaign had no social media accounts and the only one I have personally is Linked In. Without any social media accounts, I could not announce any activities. If my activities were announced by others on any social media, it was without my knowledge or consent. Clearly, I cannot control what people post online about me or my campaign.

Lacamas Magazine ad – This ad was done without my knowledge or consent. The Hogan campaign informed me that the value of the entire ad was $13 or $3.25 for ¼.
