I initially understood the contribution limits to be $7,000 in total, with no more than $500 from a single individual. However, after speaking with the Public Disclosure Commission (PDC), I now understand that, based on the filing option I selected, I am not required to submit any further reports.

Moving forward, I will maintain accurate financial records as required. I have also updated my campaign website to reflect a sponsorship disclaimer.

Thank you to the PDC for your prompt response and for helping me clarify my reporting obligations.
